Ruapehu

This elegant four-bedroom home uses gables and symmetry to form a strong lifestyle feel. The example above is shown in plaster; however, this home would look equally grand in board and batten cladding. Inside the design separates the bedrooms out for different uses; two for children, one for a guest and the master in its own separate wing. There are three lounges, an additional study, a large scullery and an optional outdoor bar. This is a lifestyle home that will inspire every visitor!
